

CUCB - GDPR Notice

Cambridge University Ceilidh Band

Last updated: 04/05/2019

1 Privacy Notice - Cambridge University Ceilidh Band

This statement explains how the Cambridge University Ceilidh Band (“CUCB”, “we”, “us”, and “our”) handles and uses the personal information we collect about our members for processes relating to our operations and activities.

When changes are made to this statement, we will publish the updated version on our website.

The controller for your personal information is the Cambridge University Ceilidh Band. The person responsible for data protection within our society is the President who can be contacted at president at cucb.co.uk.

1.1 How we use your personal information

We collect and process your personal information for a number of purposes. The personal information we hold about you is contained within your account page on our website, which you can update at any time.

- At a minimum, this information will consist of your name and email address, which are required to set up a membership account, and allow us to effectively communicate with you.
- You may choose to add further information such as: a photograph, instrument(s) played, dietary requirements, location information, phone number, and a mini biography. Adding this information is optional, although it is useful for us when organising our gigs.
- We also maintain a record of your activities with us, including the gigs you have played and your last login date to the website.

Our normal legal basis for processing your personal information is that we believe it is in our legitimate interests to do so, in order for the society to run effectively and efficiently, and as we only collect and use minimal information for the limited purposes listed here we do not consider that your own interests override ours. If we use your personal information outside of the purposes listed here, we will seek your consent to do so in advance.

We keep your personal information for as long as we need it, and usually for 1 year after your membership ceases.

1.2 How we share your personal information

- Personal information is not normally shared outside of the society and its members without your consent.
- We use University IT facilities to store electronic copies of personal information.
- Occasionally, it may be required to share some of your personal information with a gig client for organisational purposes e.g. dietary requirements, phone number.

We may also be subject to a legal requirement (with or without your consent) to share your personal information with the University or a government agency (such as the police or security services or other statutory authorities with investigatory powers) under special circumstances (e.g. relating to tax, crime or health and safety). Where feasible and appropriate, we will notify you of our intention to share such information in advance.

1.3 Your rights

You have the right to access the personal information that we hold about you. You also have the right to ask us to correct any inaccurate personal information we hold about you, to delete personal information, or otherwise restrict our processing, or to object to processing or communications, or to receive an electronic copy of the personal information you provided to us. Please note that all of these rights are qualified in various ways.

If you have questions or concerns about how your personal information is used, please contact us using the above details.

If you remain unhappy with the way your information is being handled, or with the response received from us, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office at Wycliffe House, Water Lane, Wilmslow, SK9 5AF (<https://ico.org.uk/>).